iPads are Changing the Way Business Operates in Bell County

After receiving an iPad as a Christmas gift, Bell County Clerk Becky Blevins quickly realized the benefits that it could bring to her offices. She was tired of carrying her laptop between offices and enjoyed the ease of use, size and weight of the iPad. Becky began to use it as a replacement to her laptop approximately 6 months ago and found that she could quickly and easily carry it around her office to help her staff and her customers.

She uses Log Me In as the software that enables her to remotely access her physical computer and work in programs that include AVIS, Voter Registration, Bookkeeping, and indexing in her deed room. She has been able to process Voter Registrations directly from her iPad without having to go back to her desk. Becky finds that the iPad has offered her efficiencies in scanning documents such as title lien statements and reports. She can simply Scan, e-mail and store documents with the swipe of a finger and touch of a button. After working out a few kinks, Becky purchased multiple iPads for her deputies and they are used for various functions throughout multiple departments. Her back office staff seems to get the most benefits from the device. Becky explained many features that she has come to enjoy about the iPad and the benefits it brings to her office, her deputies and her customers.

Becky is excited to learn how she will be able to use the iPad with KAVIS to promote further efficiencies within her office. She feels the use of the iPad has made great advancements to the operations in Bell County and that further improvements are possible as she learns more and more about the applications that are available.

Pumpkin Cream Cheese Muffins

Ingredients

For the filling:

8 oz. cream cheese, softened

1 cup confectioners' sugar

For the muffins:

3 cups all-purpose flour

1 tsp. ground cinnamon

1 tsp. ground nutmeg

1 tsp. ground cloves

1 tbsp. plus 1 tsp. pumpkin pie spice

1 tsp. salt

1 tsp. baking soda

4 large eggs

2 cups sugar

2 cups pumpkin puree

1¼ cups vegetable oil

For the topping:

½ cup sugar

5 tbsp. flour

1½ tsp. ground cinnamon

4 tbsp. cold unsalted butter, cut into pieces

Directions

- To prepare the filling, combine the cream cheese and confectioners' sugar in a medium bowl and mix well until blended and smooth. Transfer the mixture to a piece of plastic wrap and shape into a log about 1½-inches in diameter. Smooth the plastic wrap tightly around the log, and reinforce with a piece of foil. Transfer to the freezer and chill until at least slightly firm, at least 2 hours.

- To make the muffins, preheat the oven to 350° F. Line muffin pans with paper liners. In a medium bowl, combine the flour, cinnamon, nutmeg, cloves, pumpkin pie spice, salt and baking soda; whisk to blend. In the bowl of an electric mixer combine the eggs, sugar, pumpkin puree and oil. Mix on medium-low speed until blended. With the mixer on low speed, add in the dry ingredients, mixing just until incorporated.
- To make the topping, combine the sugar, flour and cinnamon in a small bowl; whisk to blend. Add in the butter pieces and cut into the dry ingredients with a pastry blender or two forks until the mixture is coarse and crumbly.

Transfer to the refrigerator until ready to use.

- To assemble the muffins, fill each muffin well with a small amount of batter, just enough to cover the bottom of the liner (1-2 tablespoons). Slice the log of cream cheese filling into 24 equal pieces. Place a slice of the cream cheese mixture into each muffin well. Divide the remaining batter among the muffin cups, placing on top of the cream cheese to cover completely. Sprinkle a small amount of the topping mixture over each of the muffin wells.
- Bake for 20-25 minutes. Transfer to a wire rack and let cool completely before serving. (It may be hard to resist immediate consumption, but the cream cheese filling gets very hot!)
